dress right - from the inside out!

The goal at Craft is to provide the best functional garments for athletes in training and competition. Garments that maintain the perfect micro-climate for the athlete. That means a system of garments that allow excessive heat and perspiration vapor buildup to move away from the body while protecting it.

LAYER 1 Next to the skin with ventilation to keep you dry

Next-to-the-skin Layer 1 garments are made for comfort with a skin-friendly polyester woven fabric featuring non-chafing flatlock seams. The combination of the fabric's smooth fibers and their unique knit pull excess perspiration vapor buildup away from the skin onto the fabric's outer layer.

LAYER 2 Keeping the body warm and dry

Layer 2 garments are designed to maintain body core warmth in cold weather. The fabrics used will pass through excess heat and any perspiration vapor buildup to their outer layer.

LAYER 3 Buffeting the elements

Layer 3 garments are the final line of defense against the wind, cold and drizzle. They too are designed to expel excessive heat and perspiration vapor buildup during strenuous exercise. Developed with the aid of top runners, cross-country skiers and cyclists, Layer 3 garments are true multi-sport use garments.
